EMILY D PHOTOGRAPHY

"Hey lovely's it's Emily here! I am a 25 year old photographer from Arkansas who travels full time. I love capturing intimate moments such as weddings and elopements however I'm always down for a good boudoir session! Capturing pictures you will cherish for a lifetime will always be my main goal.

I have been doing photography for a little over 2 years now and have loved every second of it, I have grown so much in such a short period due to my work ethic and determination to learn. I have met so many amazing people who I now consider lifelong friends. I have traveled to numerous states capturing special moments for the sweetest souls, I'm truly blessed to be able to do my dream job full time.

A little bit about me, I'm married to Bryan. He's a lineman but also my second shooter. We travel full time for both of our jobs, which is honestly a dream. We have 4 furbabies however no babies yet due to unexplained infertility.

I consider myself adventurous, I'm always ready to jump in the car and drive hundreds of miles to capture sessions or go on a fun hike! I love meeting new people and exploring the beauty in every state.

I'd love to get to know you and capture all of your sweet memories. Feel free to contact me at any time, I would love to chat."

KAILEE MARIE PHOTOGRAPHY

My name is Kailee Marie - I am a Midwest visual storyteller that specializes in wedding, engagement, and boudoir photography. I am based out of West Michigan and Chicago!

As cliché as it sounds, back in 2012, I picked up a camera one day and never put it down. It was something that came so natural to me. I took a leap of faith, followed my heart, and received a Bachelors Degree in Fine Arts. I attended every class imaginable in Fine Art Film Photography. I spent hours in the dark room, perfecting my craft, and played with so many different techniques which led me to discover my style. I loved the way I could document life to tell a story without using any words.

From there, I was on a mission.

I truly wanted to capture the connection and love between two humans. I discovered and fell in love with wedding photography in the way that I could document love and all the things that surround love. Learning all about my couples and getting to know them for who they truly are is something that I take pride in. Every couple is so different and unique which makes me so excited to document their love.

Outside of photography, I'm quirky, goofy, and super laid back! I'm an ice coffee addict. Pair that with a doughnut and you have heaven. I love to laugh a ton and if you have a really good dad joke, I'd love to hear it!

ANNA CAHILL PHOTOGRAPHY

My name is Anna Lipson and I am a Georgia based photographer but will travel far and wide to capture beautiful moments in time. I studied photography at The University of Alabama and have always wanted to take my passion to the next level, but a lack of self-confidence held me back until the Summer of 2020 when I finally said "I'm doing this!" And so, my dream began.

During my two years of capturing the love stories of my clients, from the engagement through the wedding day, from the all-important details to candid moments, I have increased my passion for capturing these once in a life-time events. I feel so fortunate to share in the joy and happiness of my clients and to be a part of such a magical time in their lives.

Love is such a powerful thing and being able to witness my clients' wild and amazing love stories is truly priceless. I would be thrilled to share my experience with other couples who are looking to capture their special moments!

TYLER AND TORI

Tyler and Tori here! We are a Husband and Wife Team. We're so happy you found us and want to know our story. This is essential to building our relationship with our clients to be able to capture your love.

Tyler and I are two very happy people who never thought we would end up together. Our love story was very unexpected and started off in the same town in the Dominican Republic. You heard that right in a foreign country and yet lived two hours from each other back in California. Meeting each other is the best thing that has ever happened to us. We knew right away we would mean something to each other and share the same interests. Being in the Dominican Republic combined our two favorite things; helping people and traveling. Which ironically are the two big things we get to do in our photography and videography. We love to hear about our clients' unique story and capture that love through our work!

We are based in the New York area but that doesn't really matter! We travel wherever you are in order to create those lifelong memories that you can always relive. Let's connect and see if we can't be a perfect fit for your most important day.

HOW TO INCLUDE YOUR DOG IN YOUR ELOPEMENT

BY: UNLEASHED ELOPEMENTS

You're in luck! As an elopement photographer, my job is to help with dog friendly location recommendations, getting the right permits, and building a timeline. But along with being your adventure guide and taking photos of the big day, I'm also ready with an animal CPR/First Aid Certification as Certified Veterinary Technician and Fear Free Certified. I've had over 5 years of experience working as a vet tech – so your pet will be in good hands.

It's important to decide if you are bringing your pet to your elopement, so make sure to let me know as soon as possible so I can get all the logistics and tips to you right away!

Bringing your dog along can feel overwhelming, so I've provided a sample timeline of what your all-day dog friendly elopement day could look like below:

- 8:00 am – Photographer arrives
- 8:15 am – Cook breakfast together (you, partner, and dog)
- 9:30 am – Stroll along your lodging location (think beaches, cabins, nearby hike)
- 10:30 am – Get ready together
- 11:30 am – Create a first look with you and your dog
- 12:00 pm – Drive to your activity location
- 12:30 pm – Kayak together at a gorgeous, blue lake
- 2:00 pm – Enjoy a picnic at the shore together
- 3:00 pm – Drive to your ceremony location
- 4:00 pm – Start your hike
- 5:00 pm – Arrive at your ceremony location
- 5:30 pm – Sunset portraits
- 6:30 pm – Hike back and head back to lodging location
- 8:00 pm – End with a private meal together

ALL-PET FRIENDLY INCLUSIVE

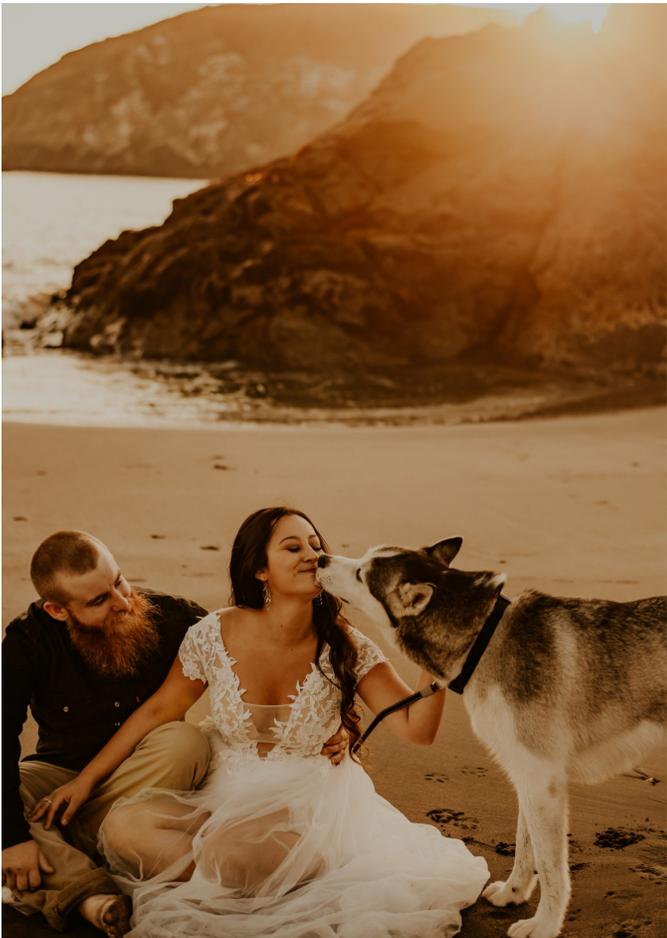

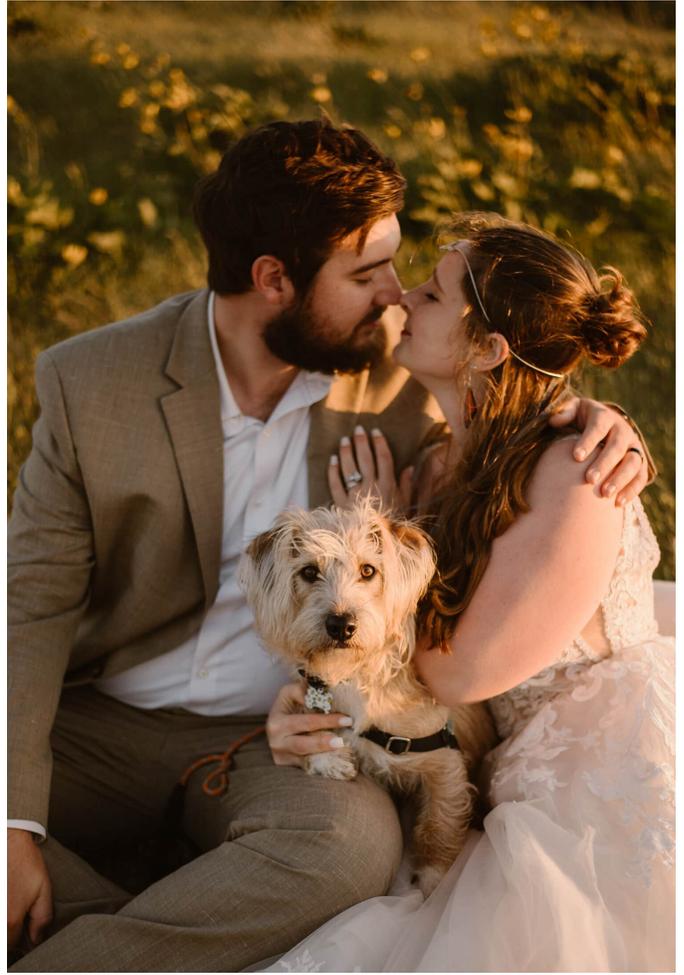

I know dogs are most popular for couple's elopements, but don't forget about including your other pets like cats, snakes, birds, horses, etc. I have extensive knowledge in all kinds of pets and would LOVE to have them be a part of your day.

Remember that each pet is unique in what they are comfortable and safe with. If this means leaving your pet at home instead of traveling to your elopement with you, that is more than okay. Their happiness and safety is the most important thing! As you can see, that doesn't mean they can't still be apart of your wedding day.

If you do choose to bring them along, let's chat more about what your envisioning. I can't wait!

Ready to get started? Contact me!

UNLEASHED ELOPEMENTS

“Hi, I’m Sharlee. I’m an adventure elopement photographer who creates and documents authentic wedding memories in nature for wildly in love couples. I currently reside in Portland, Oregon and travel all over the country for elopements. I’m enjoying life with my husband, dog, cat, and hedgehog and split my time between photographing elopements and working as a Certified Veterinary Technician. I love anything outdoors, creating music, traveling, and making new friendships!

I grew up in a small town of Eastern Idaho where I fell in love with the great outdoors through camping, hiking, fishing, and road tripping. Years later I picked up my first camera in high school and became passionate about photographing wildlife and scenic landscapes, as being outside is one of my true joys in life. Then, I started dabbling into weddings but I never felt passionate about them as I witnessed the stress, family drama, and big performances that usually came along with them.

Once I discovered that there was more than one way to get married, I instantly directed my full attention into specializing into elopements so that couples could enjoy a wedding day that allowed them to be completely themselves without the judgement of others.

I’ve taken my background as an outdoor enthusiast, landscape photographer, and animal lover into helping amazing couples like you have their dream wedding adventure. Whether that’s sharing pizza with 10 of your favorite people, running along the beach with your dog and partner, or summiting a mountain to exchange your vows with just the two of you - your elopement day can be whatever you imagine! I’m so stoked that couples are looking to ditch the traditional way of weddings and create a day that is unleashed. Elopements are so much more to me than just pretty pictures in the outdoors. They are your most meaningful adventure yet and guiding you to that day is truly special. I help couples create their authentic wedding day by guiding them through picking out their location, finding local and unique vendors, creating a sketch of their day, and of course documenting their unique love story.

Remember that your wedding day will be the day you celebrate for a lifetime - so make it fun, memorable, and totally YOU!"

TAYLOR DEMPSEY PHOTOGRAPHY

Story about my session "Signore e signori, lei".

"On a hot, windy, May evening I found myself blasting Dean Martin while photographing one of the neatest bridal sessions I've ever done. Brooklyn had already been married for almost two years, but when she hopped back into a wedding dress for some bridals, she had the glow of a new bride. Her dress was short, with puff sleeves and adorned with pearls. We paired it with an old Bentley Film camera to add a retro aspect to the session. There is something so beautiful about seeing someone, who is already married, get back into wedding attire. Throughout the session we talked about married life, the ups and downs of it, the hard parts, and the most beautiful parts. Bridal sessions do not just have to be before the wedding or on the wedding day, but they can happen after the wedding. The feeling of putting on wedding attire again can kindle those romantic feelings one feels on a wedding day. Brooklyn remarked, "I never thought after my wedding day I would be able to feel like a bride again but putting this dress on was a dream. Tay made me feel so beautiful and I can't wait to look back on those pictures and remember the emotions I felt shooting with her!"

If one is thinking about doing bridals after one's wedding, whether it is for the first time or second time, do it. It is a sweet way to share intimate moments with one's partner, and to reflect on one of the most important days. One can rewear their original wedding attire, rent, or buy new outfits. There is no limit to how one can do bridals, as there is no right or wrong way. So grab your partner, find your dream photographer, and go relive those intimate moments."

SAMMIE JO PHOTOGRAPHY

I was born and raised in a small hippie town in So. Cal, but I've got a lot of my roots in the great state of UT. I am a big believer in family over everything. You might find me on Instagram oogling over my TWELVE nieces and nephews or having a dance party to the newest song that I've found. I'm a sucker for an amazing bridge in a song. Oh, and I'm a self-proclaimed connoisseur of all kinds of french fries. Need I continue? Every kind of seasonal Reeses fuels my serotonin levels. Sunshine, my husband, and my cute cat Frank makes my heart happy. My husband and I got married in the peak of 2020 covid weddings, so I know all about the wedding stress. If you need anything, I'm your girl, k? Laying in the sun all summer, getting warm is secretly how I survive the long winters here in UT. My favorite pass time is snuggling up in big blankets and watching tik toks or street racing movies with my husband. Oh and btw, that's my husband Jesse in the picture. If you book video with us, he'll be the one there to capture all the memories! Anyways, that's enough about me. I can't wait to meet you and work together. I value love and the amazing reality that is marriage done well, and I am thrilled to be a part of the start of the journey for every couple I work with! I've been shooting weddings for the last 7 years, and with each wedding I do, I fall more in love with my job every time. I LOVE love, and being able to capture your love with my art is the coolest thing ever. I am the kind of gal that can capture all of the real raw moments, AND use my loudest voice to get everyone moving for that group shot. I'm going to get to know your grandparents, sing along to t-swift with your bridesmaids, and possibly even break a move with you on the dance floor. Your love is the most important to me, and I am 100% invested in you and your love story. You tell me when the party is and I WILL be there!

ANNIE RUTH PHOTOGRAPHY

A little about me! Hello! My name is Annie Stagg, I am a Utah Wedding Photographer. Growing up in a time where photos are such a prevalent part of our lives, I have always been drawn to snapping one every chance I get. This could be because I don't have the greatest memory. Being able to look back on a picture and remember the feelings and emotions tied to that moment, is such a special way to look back on previous memories. I believe photos should be filled with emotion, it should make the consumer feel something. That is definitely what intrigued me to start taking photos of not only people in my own life but others as well. I love being able to capture moments between a couple that you want to remember for a lifetime.

I remember my wedding day and how loved I felt, I am grateful for the support our family and friend showed to us. Every couple deserves to feel just as much love on their wedding day as we did. I do my very best to give each of my couples the best experience and help them remember all the feelings that came along with their wedding day. From the giggles and laughs to the sweet happy tears, I want to capture it all.

HOW TO PICK YOUR PERFECT ELOPEMENT LOCATION & PHOTOGRAPHER

BY: BEATRIX MAY PHOTOS

Eloping is such a beautiful, intimate, and unique way to tie the knot. It's becoming more and more popular and there are numerous reasons that contribute to that. To name a few; Eloping is low stress, more intimate, and usually less expensive.

Eloping looks so different for every couple, as well as what makes them decide to elope! For me, the wedding planning became overwhelming. I knew I wanted to elope when the stress of planning made me no longer look forward to what was supposed to be our special day. When my husband and I eloped, we went to the courthouse downtown and then enjoyed dinner together at our favorite Mexican restaurant. It was simple, easy, no stress, and most importantly, so special to us. (Plus we saved a ton of money.)

Now maybe you're not looking to have an elopement that is lowkey, and I completely understand that. The fun thing about eloping is that you can go wherever you want. You could hike to a mountain top in Iceland, or stay close to home and elope in your backyard. You could travel to your favorite national park, or go to a sandy beach in California. You could elope in a country or city that's been on your bucket list for years. The possibilities on where to elope are endless. What's important is that you choose a place that will be special to you as a couple and that you're excited about!

Something to consider before picking your perfect location, is the time of year that you want to elope. Especially if you're wanting to travel! For example, if you want to have a beautiful, springtime elopement in Jackson Hole, WY, I wouldn't suggest scheduling your elopement for April. It'll probably still be snowing and it'll be a disappointment to you when you show up and it's not very green. I would say to schedule your elopement for June instead! So do your research and find the best time of year for the season you desire in your elopement location!

Some of the biggest piece of advice I have for you would be to book your photographer (and all other vendors) in advance as much as you can! Most photographers are booked out for months and sometimes until the following year! So if you're working with a tight timeline, I don't suggest waiting to book. Remember though, it's never a bad idea to reach out even if your elopement is only a month away. Cancellations happen and schedules open up, so it's always worth a try. If you don't have a photographer in mind, do your research! Take your time and have consultations with a few different ones. Pick a photographer that you connect with, are excited about, and have a style that you love!

Lastly, remember that photography is an investment, and I promise it's a good one to make. I wouldn't suggest picking the cheapest option that you can find. Hiring a professional photographer that will provide you with high quality images of every big, special moment, down to all the little details from your wedding day, isn't something you will regret doing. Your wedding day will come and go faster than you expect, so having those images to look back on of all those precious moments will be so worth it!

BEATRIX MAY PHOTOS

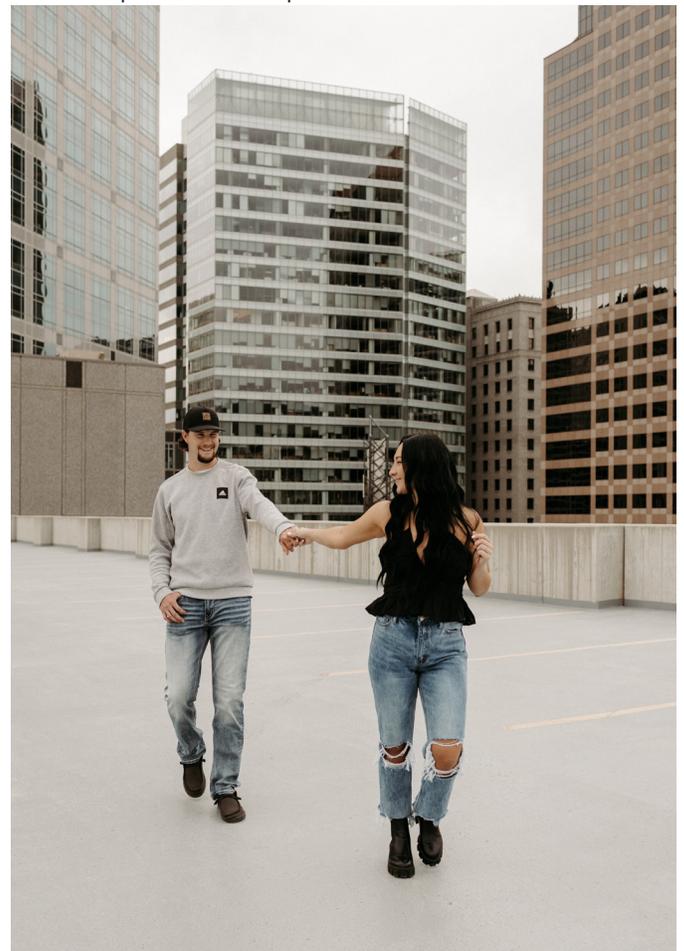

Hi friends! My name is Beatrix & I am a full time wedding, elopement, & couples photographer based in Eastern Idaho & Jackson Hole, Wyoming! I am currently open for travel for 2022 and most of 2023, which I am so excited about! So whether you are local to me or not, I would love to come to you & provide you with the photos you've always dreamed of having!

My goal as your photographer is to take the photos that will represent you & your love as authentically as possible. I love to capture the candid, raw, & real.. The perfectly imperfect, the unplanned & unposed.. Giving you the images that will tell your love story is so important to me. I want to capture your love the way it feels & not just the way it looks. To me, photography is a connection. So creating lasting relationships with all of my clients is something I strive to do. I love to laugh, have fun, and create an enjoyable experience for everyone that works with me. Making my clients feel comfortable, confident, & beautiful while standing in front of my camera is so important to me!

I would love to work with you & hear about all the visions you have for your big day so we can create beautiful images together that you will cherish forever!

ASHLEY JENNIFER PHOTOGRAPHY

Hello, my name is Ashley Hood. I am based in Oregon but am willing to travel anywhere if it means that I get to capture magical love stories. I married my high school sweetheart back in 2018 and we now have a beautiful 2 year old little boy and two perfectly rambunctious fur babies together. I work 2 nights a week as a Labor & Delivery Surgical Technologist and spend the rest of my professional time as a photographer. I can't go a single day without my iced coffee from Dutch Bro's and snuggles from my little boy.

I serve my clients in many ways, although my favorite would have to be Wedding's & Couples. There's just this fire that ignites deep in my chest when I get to capture the magic between soul mates and turn it into art for them to cherish forever. I am a passionate believer in the saying "If you do what you love, you'll never work a day in your life." I find this true in both of my professions and I'm truly just so grateful to be here.

MISS MILLER'S PHOTOGRAPHY

Hey guys! My name is Lindsay Miller, but these days, most people know me as “Miss Miller” the cow whispering, farmer’s daughter, Colorado native, dog mom of 4 crazy cattle dogs, football loving gal who also happens to be a western wedding photographer! Que the cliché “I knew I wanted to be a photographer the very first time I picked up a camera” WRONG!! Would you believe me if I told you, I never planned on becoming a photographer and it was completely outside the realm of possibilities or ideas!

Rewind to the year 2015, I remember telling my parents I wanted to take a year off from college-I was pursuing a degree in biology with an emphasis in animal science. Ever since I was a little girl I have loved animals more than most! Or so I am told. I knew from the moment I watched my dad help deliver a calf that I wanted to experience the joy of helping animals (specifically cattle) everyday. I began my quest to become a large animal veterinarian. I chased that dream HARD, with blood sweat and tears. Like you might also know, sometimes no matter how hard we fight for the path we think is right, there is a bigger plan out there for us. When I took that year off from college I won't lie to you, I was at my lowest of lows. We've all been there, haven't we? You get dumped by some random boy you thought was perfect, wow were we wrong! Your dream career gets snatched from just out of your reach. Suddenly you are moving back home with mom and dad, oh and did I mention a couple thousand head of cattle? Yep, I took a year off from college and returned home to my family's cattle feedlot and farming operation. Photography was NEVER a plan, a thought or even an interest I had growing up. Heck not even the day I picked up my Mom's new shiny Nikon D3200. Fresh out of the box from the factory that she had gotten for Christmas so she could snap some photos like all the cool football mom's at the Friday night games as we watched my younger brother play.

Somehow the camera always ended up in my lap more often than not because my mom was SO into the game-who has time for photos! I headed to the sidelines and started snapping. Apparently shooting in the dark, under stadium lights trying to capture still images of VERY fast moving subjects is hard or something? LOL I was determined that I would get some good photos, so during the day I would practice and get to know all the settings on the camera by snapping photos of our everyday lives on the cattle operation and farm. Working cattle, planting corn and of course finding the prettiest calf in the lot to turn into my daily model! Well, fast forward to 2022 and I never did go back to school and I found my passion in shooting western, cowboy and farm weddings + couples!! (Football games are fun and all, but once your brother graduates and is no longer playing, it's a little less fun!). Why weddings you ask? Well, don't be fooled it took A LOT of trial and error to find my calling in the world of photography once I started officially taking clients! I tried everything from newborns, families, sports...but something always drew me back to my western roots and pulled on my hopeless romantic heart strings! I always found myself longing to be in a field full of cattle while still putting my photography skills to the test. I took my passion for agriculture and the western way of life, combined it with my newly discovered talent behind the camera and created memories that last a lifetime for so many couples!

I currently live in the heart of Colorado agriculture, located in North Eastern Weld County where I continue as the 5th generation of Millers to raise and produce beef cattle with my fiancé Tucker Allmer who is also my second shooter! Tucker and I actually started dating only 2 weeks after starting my photography journey and he has always supported me, encouraged me and of course tags along to all of my sessions or weddings. Taking some amazing photos too, might I add! We love raising cattle, home improvement projects, spending time with our cattle dogs and watching Survivor reruns after a long day! Tucker and I met through showing livestock so when I beg him to let me bring home a new heifer, there really isn't much convincing that needs to be done! So if you are getting married on your family farm, coming down the aisle on horseback or want your bride and groom photos captured in a pasture with your best pairs. I am your girl!

INTIME PHOTOGRAPHY & MEDIA

Hey there! My name is Jacqueline and I am the owner, photographer, and videographer at InTime Photography and Media. I started my business in 2016 while still in high school and since then it has taken off and become my full time job! I incorporated video in 2020 during the pandemic which was crazy but it turned out amazing! I fell in love and continue to offer a variety of packages for my clients for both services.

I specialize in weddings, couples, and boudoir photography and film. My work features soft blues and moody greens. I have more of a documentary style as I seek to capture authentic emotion and moments. Majority of the time I am capturing moments as if I'm a fly on the wall! I encourage movement and going with the flow! I know being in front of the camera is intimidating and my goal is to have you forget it's even there! No pressure, no stress, just having fun! If this is your style, I'm your girl!

SIENNA C PHOTOGRAPHY

Hey, brides & grooms! I'm Sienna, the owner and photographer of Sienna C Photography based in Akron, Ohio. My passion is capturing intimate moments of couples, and creating a friendship that goes beyond the contract they sign. From the proposal to the big wedding day, my goal is for couples to walk away with not just a product, but an experience.

At the inception of my photography business, I had no intention of photographing weddings. In fact, I had no idea what the wedding industry entailed until I was planning a wedding of my own in 2020. My first booked wedding was in September 2021, and up until that point I had zero wedding photography experience. I was approached by a young student from my full-time job, whose mom needed a last minute photographer for her wedding. It was that day that I realized where my passion and real desire for photography laid. I did hours and hours of research, watched countless YouTube videos, and inquired advice from a friend of mine who had been in the wedding photography biz for a while. The wedding day was seamless, the photos turned out beautifully and I took that as a sign that this is where I needed to be.

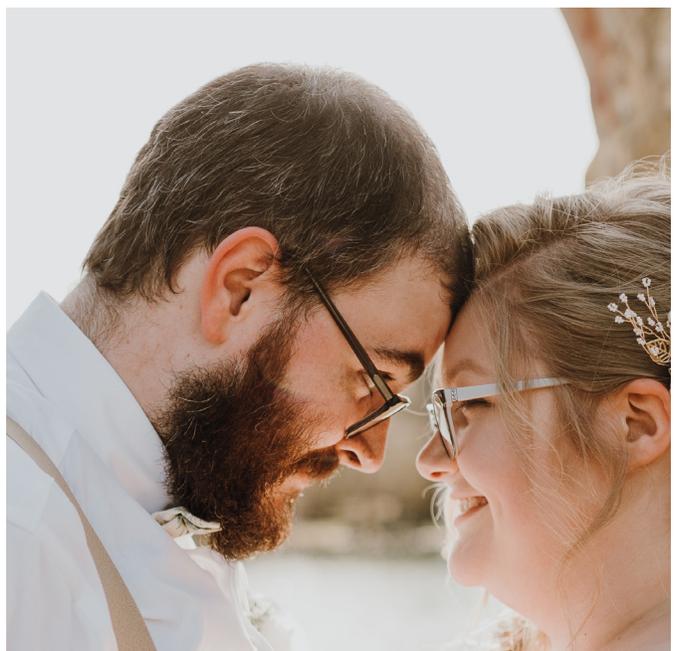

All in all, my contemporary, candid, and colorful style is one you'll want to pass down for generations. I have an eye for detail and composition, and would love to help make your dream wedding come to life!

VENDOR LIST

Venue: Ocean Gate Resort in Southport, ME

passed away my freshman year, I wanted to find an outlet that I could express my emotions with. My dad was the one who taught me how to take a photo, so taking pictures was a way for me to connect with him and a way to cope with the pain that I was feeling. The name, Golden Rose Collective, actually is in honor of him and his love of yellow roses. So without him, I wouldn't be doing this today!

When I'm not taking photos, you can find me spending time with my friends and family, going to the beach, going out for sushi, watching a movie, traveling a bit, and snuggling with my cat Cheesecake. But really, any kind of adventure, I'm there!!

So let's run around in a field, dance on the beach, and create some memories!! Thanks for taking the time to read this, I can't wait to meet you!!

RACINE KENDALL PHOTOGRAPHY

Growing up I didn't want to be an adventurous wedding photographer- I honestly didn't even know that was an option. I kept going down the road that was set before me. However, I continually thought, "If all of these steps are correct, why do I still feel so lost?" I continually jumped in and out of jobs that I thought were my "passion", my "purpose" and I still felt zero fulfillment until one day, I sat down and ordered a Costco camera for Christmas- I was unsure and directionless but as I stepped away from the path I was supposed to be on and into the unknown I found myself loving the people I met- from intimate couples shoots in Utah meadows to a lively stroll down Times Square, NYC to "first-looks" on an Alaskan glacier... it started to make sense. I wanted to experience life by capturing yours. I am not only your photographer, I am your buddy. Grab your boots, we're getting married!

Hi I'm Allie Logsdon!

I'm a Midwest Wedding Photographer based in Cincinnati, Ohio- I specialize in Catholic Weddings as a devout Catholic! I want to first thank you for reading this and wanting to know more about me and my story. I got married to my LOVE Ben in October of 2021, it was truly the most holy and joyful days of my whole life- and ever since has just become more and more joyful- marriage is the best and I cannot wait to walk with you as you prepare yourself for a life-long love full of joys, graces, and sacrifice (which doesn't always have to be bad).

I know you're here to just know about why I should be your photographer- so here it goes!

"oh, beauty, ever ancient and ever new"
- Saint Augustine

Art is irreplaceable. Creating art is more than just picking up a camera. Art is something that moves our hearts, inspires us, and makes us think outside of ourselves. All art is a small taste of creation- a taste of what our Father in heaven does- and what He has done! I have always loved art because I have always loved getting to participate in creating- in making things that are around me into beautiful frozen moments of time. Something so precious to us as humans is time- and when you hire me to capture your wedding day I am not just there to get free food, and a fun dance party- NO- I am there to freeze memories for you, to capture the beauty, the real, the authentic love in which you and your soon to be spouse- and I want you to feel those moments in the art- in the photographs, until the end of time.

My speciality in the photography world is elopements, small weddings, and couples/families photos. I find capturing the emotion and sentiment moments are the ones my clients will cherish forever, and so it is my goal to deliver those moments for you.
